

LANDON OSBORN

CLINICAL THERAPIST

Born and raised in Greater New Haven, Landon received his M.S.W. Degree from the University of Connecticut in 2015 and a B.S. degree from Southern Connecticut State University in 2012. Landon is a Connecticut Licensed Master Social Worker with years of experience working with individuals and families suffering the effects of multi-generational mental health diagnoses and or commodities that were committed to both State and non-profit residential facilities. In conjunction with providing clinical therapy at Reliant Behavioral Health and Community Services, Landon is a Program Manager for CLICC, a non profit organization that provides services for families impacted by the criminal justice system. Landon also serves as an Adjunct Faculty for the University of Connecticut's Master of Social Work Program where he teaches a macro foundations class and serves as a field supervisor for social work students at Southern Connecticut

State University. Additionally, Landon currently sits on the Bereavement Care Network's advisory committee and Community Action Agency of New Haven's Advisory and Research Engagement Committee. Landon has a passion for creating change within the lives of all individuals at-risk of oppressive and generational trauma utilizing holistic, micro/macro levels of interventions in order to diffuse disparities within urbanized communities. Landon's specialty includes: Individual and group counseling, community engagement, advocacy, mentorship to adolescent youth, teens, and adults, re-entry/incarcerated/at-risk populations, anxiety, depression, PTSD, adjustment disorder and urban trauma.

And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then I am strong. 2 Corinthians KJV 12:9-10
