

TERRI WATERS-BURR

Terri Waters Burr completed her Bachelor's degree in Human Development and Family Relations at the University of Connecticut and her Master's Degree in Counseling from Southern Connecticut State University. She is a licensed Alcohol and Drug Counselor and has provided services to individuals and groups for over 30 years. She has extensive experience working with substance abusers and has worked in outpatient and residential programs as well as institutional and community corrections. She has provided mental health services to diverse populations including services to survivors of intimate partner violence and sexual assault. In addition to providing clinical services, she has also trained and supervised staff to enhance their counseling skills. Terri utilizes a strength based approach and is committed to building a positive therapeutic relationship to empower clients and encourage change.