

DR. TAMIKO JACKSON

PEDIATRIC CONSULT

Dr. Tamiko Jackson serves as the pediatric consult for Reliant Behavioral Health and Community Services. She completed her undergraduate studies at Howard University in Washington, D.C. and went on to Howard University College School of Medicine, earning a medical degree. After medical school, Jackson-McArthur completed her residency at the Children’s Hospital of New Jersey. In 1998 she returned to New Haven, CT and began working for a local hospital, but realized the hospital climate wasn’t for her. “I had to open my own practice, because I didn’t feel that my way of practicing medicine would come into fruition working for someone else. In 2006, she opened her own practice. “I knew what I wanted to do in pediatric medicine in New Haven which was beyond the scope of what others could have imagined,”. “There are more components to pediatric medicine than working in a hospital setting.” Her New Haven practice is also a pediatric training site for students of the Quinnipiac University College of Medicine, where she teaches and trains aspiring pediatricians. Jackson-McArthur also owns the Oxford Pediatric Wellness Center in Oxford, CT. She’s an active member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc., The Girl Friends Inc., The Links Inc, and Jack and Jill of America Inc.
